Faint Sketches of Men of Our Day.

NO. IV.—GEN. ROSECRANS.

The 14th of April, 1861, destroyed more reputations than any day of any year men can now recall It may also be considered the groundwork of the finest specimens of character-building the world perhaps has ever seen. It was then that men expressed to each other, vague doubts and fears which they blushed for entertaining, and half apologized for expressing. But when the doubts were dissolved; when those who were fed and educated at the expense of the government, actuated by the blackest ingratitude the world ever witnessed, deserted the fostering hand of their benefactor and embarked in the same hour, in a hellish conspiracy against their benefactor, instead of uttering apologies, men then showered upon them execrations without stint. That the Keitts, Rhetts and Toombs should assail the government with deadly intent occasioned no surprise; that men who owed their all to the government, and comparatively nothing to political principles of any color whatever, should play the fool and traitor, did excite wonder, shame and unutterable contempt. Now that the white-heat of passion has cooled, men can calmly recall how such and such an one left his pampered place for the risks of a wild adventure; and how such and such ones, who had left the army and navy in the "dull piping time of peace" hastened to renew their martial obligations, leaving lucrative professions and luxurious homes; actuated solely by patriotism, and an inward monitor that reminded them of a common debt.

Among these we must class that sturdy worker, Gen. Rosecrans. When half a million men stood anxiously forward, each hoping that he would be one of seventy-five thousand, Wm. S. Rosecrans was among them, and was not disappointed in his hopes. He was then engaged in business in Cincinnati, where he was regarded as a sober-going, earnest, honorable business man, of quiet and retiring manners. When Gen. Rosecrans offered his services to the government the government answered promptly that they required them, and the country first hears of him while in the performance of a mission to Western Virginia, where he opened up a campaign, whose honors, to this hour, we must all admit, have been wholly absorbed by one whose spirit and capacity we are often tempted to question. I allude to General George B. McClellan, who not only never participated in, but who was never within five miles of the conflicts he reported so speedily and faithfully to the War Department. This well known fact, we are sorry to say, no longer excites suprise, much less frequent comment, so common has it become for the superior to reap, not only all the honors justly due him, but also the laurels which nature and circumstances designed for the inferior. It may be but poor consolation, yet it is none the less certain that the wronged party has a last and unfailing resource in the historian.

Very, very few men to-day have any adequate realization of the merits of that first campaign in Western Virginia; fewer still appreciated the high services rendered the government through the indomitable will and energy and the deep sagacity of Gen. Rosecrans. It has been the fashion to devote our attention to the Army of the Potomac. People look that way continually, as if anything overlooked there would bring inevitable ruin upon the whole land. I beg the reader's pardon; it was the fashion. And while that fashion prevailed, Gen. Rosecrans was building up his character in unnoticed Western Virginia, a somehow men have only of late began remark that he seems to possess the qualities necessary to a great general. merely he was a solid, practical sort man, but with no decided military tale unless a commendable cautiousness earnest deliberation might be reckon among the first requisites of a great eral. As they were not, of course the eral could not be regarded as a first military man, so the multitude son other gods, journeying East.

Now that the General has virtually end his campaign in Tennesse (for we wi presently hear of his campaign in Georgia), let us see the nature of the work he has accomplished, and consider wherein it has been different from the work assigned to other men in a different region, if we can. If we can; for, unless one has been on the ground; unless one has helped to measure the difficulties; unless one understands the difference between operations carried on in the sight of the enemy, and operations conducted out of the sight of the enemy, in short, unless one knows the difference between tactics and strategy, he cannot obtain even a glimpse of the wonderful achievement announced in the taking of Chattanooga without the loss of ten men! You may know all about the battle-fields in Virginia; you may have the geography of that State at your finger-ends and be familiar with the distances, roads and streams; but even that will not enable you to form the slightest conception of the obstacles surmounted by the Army of the Cumberland in the capture of Chattanooga. Think of the distances, of the difficulties to be surmounted in transporting supplies across mountains where ten and twenty mules are required to haul up a single six-pounder; where the commissary makes his requisition for twenty men to a single wagon, and even then some times loses it in spite of all their endeavors, and where everybody is perfectly satisfied when they notch down four miles per day. If you can picture all this, bearing in mind the vital necessity of keeping open your lines of communication and retreat, and conceiving a flank movement, where you may be at the mercy of your enemy, and, at best afford him the same opportunity you are striving to attain yourself, even then you cannot appreciate the service Gen. Rosecrans has rendered his government; for you have yet to conceive his cares, his watchfulness and sleepless solicitude.

Most assuredly it will be admitted now that General Rosecrans is a brilliant general. For my part, I think the war has only brought out two great generals on our side, and I place them side by side, Grant and Rosecrans. The first will be remembered when Tottleben, and those who assailed him is forgotten. The second will be handed down as the compeer of Andrew Jackson. The services he has rendered, which men do not now acknowledge fully, will one day be recorded in letters that will never fade.

I first met Gen. Rosecrans at the headquarters of a famous General whose "crotchets" worrred the secesh daily and nightly in Corinth. Either the General had desired it himself, or the War Department had concluded to have the benefit of his counsels at the time our troops sat down contentedly before, instead of marching into Corinth. The General arrived there in company with a very respectable party of Pittsburghers, I believe, and immediately reported himself at Gen. Pope's head-quarters. He arrived on a broiling hot day, about eleven A. M. I happened to be there when he arrived; and I was there again on business about noon, when I found a new tent up and the General in it, wearing his business air, with his maps and books at hand on a table. Now, I should not be understood as finding fault with any of the earnest Generals or field officers in the army; and yet I must say that the Generals' BUSINESS ways arrested and held my attention longer than was exactly creditable to some Generals whose negligence would occur to me in spite of myself. I afterwards ascertained that I was not alone in my conclusions. It was remarked that if "Pope and Rosecrans hitched together, the Corinthians might bid farewell to peace." However, one overruling mind prevented the saying from becoming a prophecy; and the Corinthians had ample time allowed them for 'flitting.'

But history will one day narrate the particulars of a horrible battle which was contested on the very ground where Rosecrans pitched his tent, with Rosecrans as the chief actor and victor. It was a battle in which each combatant aimed at the destruction of the other, and it was the only battle since the war began where our forces followed up the victory by a masterly pursuit, and succeeded in utterly routing the enemy. Had Gen. Rosecrans never performed any other service he could afford to rest his claims on the notice of his countrymen solely on that battle, and retire with credit.

"The difference between Rosecrans and the majority of our generals," said a friend to me, "lies in the fact that he is in earnest, while the rest are not." There is a grain of truth in the expression.

Gen. Rosecrans is about five feet nine inches high; is remarkably strong and well built, weighs about one hundred and seventy pounds, has a firm elastic step; light hair and full beard, inclined to the "sandy hue," large head, long face, prominent nose, slightly Roman; blue eyes, capacious forehead, a remarkably deep chin and a general expression that would at once attract the observer's attention. My instant thought, on first beholding him, was, "What a tenacious visage—a regular Holdtight, Holdfast. God help the culprit you punish." And yet he is remarkably agreeable with men who do their duty. Gen. Rosecrans' politics are known to us all. May his greatness become as familiar to us as his kindnesses is to the Army of the Cumberland.

THE TROUBLES IN OUR COAL MINES.—The quiet in the coal regions still continues under the occupation of the military, and the increase in the production of coal also continues. Hands are becoming more plenty in consequence of the high wages paid in the coal regions, and it is now even doubtful whether the supply will be much, if any diminished, even after the draft takes place. During the week there has been only one disturbance in this region, as far as we can learn, and that was at the colliery of R. Gorrell & Co., above Ashland. This colliery is located in Columbia county, a short distance over the Schuylkill county line. They had trouble some time ago with the men, who demanded the discharge of the boss—this was unfortunately complied with at the time. The new state of affairs did not work as well as they supposed, and some of the men demanded the discharge of the new boss, and suggested the name of a person that would suit their purposes. At this juncture the proprietors found it necessary to discharge two or three laborers who were working on a night shift, which was discontinued at the colliery, when a large number of those engaged at the colliery also quit work and finally all left, and threatening notices were put up against all those who would continue to work, and also against the proprietors, requesting them to sell out their colliery, in fact giving them notice to quit. Application was made to the civil authorities at Bloomsburg for aid, which was not given. Governor Curtin was telegraphed and he promptly responded by stating that if the civil authorities would not act, to call upon the military for protection, which was done, and Gen. Whipples immediately despatched troops to the colliery to maintain order. We learn that a portion of the men commenced work again yesterday under the protection of the military. There is evidently a disposition on the part of a body of Irishmen to gain possession of the collieries in portions of the region, and drive out all the English, Welsh, Scotch and Germans, by threats and intimidations, who will not unite with them, so that they can control everything to suit themselves. This cannot and will not be tolerated, even if it becomes necessary for the Government to declare martial law in these districts, and take possession of the collieries.—Miners' Journal, Sept. 12.

SOME OF THE NEW MONITORS.—The Bos... ton Traveller gives the following ac... of the new monitors now building ... Boston:

Three monitors are now in... struction at South Boste... are being built at ... Globe Works. T... and Wassuc... plating, a... ber. The... ya...

The Southern rebe... cotton King, but it has... Emperor.

It is suggested that all the l... country ought to wear crape thi... for the death of John B. Floyd.

The Richmond Enquirer says that ... Federal soldiers are "like swine." Then let the rebel government read its doom. Wherever the hog comes the rattlesnake disappears.

Gibbon the historian mentions urine as one of the two or three known agents for the extinguishment of Greek fire. The people of Charleston should by all means try to engage our neighbor for the defence of their city.

Memminger has come to the defense of the finances of the Southern Confederacy. He relies upon his taxes and the sale of his cotton bonds, and says the total of all kinds of currency notes issued is $528,114,406, of which $302,404,670 has been funded, and $70,000,000 cancelled.

A gentleman of high respectability informs us that, upon a Mississippi plantation, twenty miles this side of Natchez, he has raised 700 bales of cotton, and that no molestation has been offered him. Last year he raised 700 bales, and the whole was burned by the rebels. What wonder that so many Mississippians rejoice in the restoration of Federal rule!

The Knoxville Register has folded its tents like the Arab and silently stole away. It belongs to the nomadic tribe of the Louisville-Bowling-Green Nashville Courier, and the Memphis-Atlanta-Jackson Appeal. The Register has gone to Cleveland, near the Georgia State line, but it will soon have to emigrate again. All these rebel papers have found their "last ditch" long before the rebel armies have been able to ascertain its locality.

A New York editor recommends the immediate recognition of the Southern Confederacy. He doesn't believe that this would "imply an acknowledgment of the right of secession." But it would imply an acknowledgment of the power to secede and to make the secession good, and this would be just as fatal as the acknowledgment of the right, so far as the preservation of the Union is concerned. Neither the right nor the power exists, and our Government would be both criminal and foolish to acknowledge the existence of either.

The President should proclaim an amnesty to the people in rebellion, but there's no use in talking about negotiations with the Richmond government. Our negotiations must be with the rebel forces in the field. And the sooner these negotiations come to a head the better. All those in the Federal armies in favor of requiring the South to submit to the Union and the Constitution will signify it by holding up their arms. All those in rebel armies in favor of yielding to the requirement will signify it by laying down their arms or running.

COLORED MEN IN THE NAVY.—It is estimated that there are over five thousand colored men in the navy. Within the last eight or ten months they have been admitted as seamen, ordinary seamen and landsmen. Formerly they were chiefly occupied in the ward-rooms and in the afterguard. Not one one of them, however, holds a position as petty officer in the service, although many of them are coxswains for boats. Admiral Paulding's barge at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, it is not generally known, has a crew of ten stalwart negroes.

The War News.

Our readers may expect stirring news daily for ten days to come. The forces of Rosecrans and Bragg have already come in collision. The country in which both armies are operating is exceedingly rough and unfitted for a general engagement. We have no fears of the result, in case of anything like a general engagement on equal terms. In so rough a country some separate divisions of this army might be encountered by a superior force and temporarily checked. But Rosecrans and Burnside will get together, if as is now reported, Bragg is largely reinforced from the army of Gen. Lee. We have full confidence that Rosecrans cannot be beaten; but on the contrary, before a month goes around that he will take Atlanta and cut in two the connection between the cotton states and Richmond.

From Charleston, too, we expect exciting news. We have scarcely a doubt that before the first of October the old Stars and Stripes will float over the site of what was once Charleston. Should not a house be left to tell where once congregated the worst set of traitors the world has ever seen, so much the better.

We have great confidence that before another month goes around the backbone of secession will be broken. The restoration of the old flag will be a work of time, but when Lee and Bragg's armies and Charleston and Richmond are taken, the hard work will be over. Look out, then, for telegraphic news for the next ten days.

Gen. Butler in Philadelphia.

Major General Benjamin F. Butler was serenaded at the Continental Hotel, in Philadelphia, on Friday night. General Butler made a brief, but exceedingly patriotic speech in return for the compliment, which was received with the greatest demonstrations of delight. Wayne M'Veagh, Esq., chairman of the State Committee, succeeded the General in a well timed and appropriate address. Hon. Thomas J. Bigham, of Pittsburgh, followed in a speech replete with eloquence and truth, and his remarks concerning "copperheads" created the most unbounded enthusiasm. The meeting, although impromptu, was a great outpouring of the loyal masses, and very enthusiastic.

The Canvass in this State.

The friends of the Union and the Constitution appear to be thoroughly aroused all through the State. The Democrats, as they desire to be called, caught us napping in 1862, and on a two-third vote of the State, elected their State ticket. Our friends do not intend to be again caught in the same [illegible] and an active canvass of the State is [illegible] progress. Gov. [illegible]refore surprise any one to [illegible]cause of Woodward is now [illegible]merely intrusted to a new set of [illegible] merely boys in age and appearance. [illegible] the grand meeting held last week in Philadelphia, not an officer or speaker had ever been heard of outside of that city, unless, indeed, it was the Clerk of the Supreme Court, holding his commission at the will of Woodward and Lowrie. All the rest were a set of inexperienced, reckless and desperate leaders. Courage, boys, up and at them. You are daily gaining thousands to the cause of the Union! Gov. Curtin will be elected beyond peradventure. Woodward and Vallandigham, alike in life, in their death will not be divided.

THE President's Proclamation suspending the writ of habeas corpus has created a sensation throughout the entire country. Conscripts who indulged the hope that disloyal Judges would provide a way of escape for them have determined to pay the commutation fee, furnish substitutes, or respond in person to the summons from the Provost Marshal. Deserters who have been playing hide-and-seek, or staying away from the army under the cover of forged furloughs, realize the fact that the Government is in earnest, and are hastening back to their camps. Every train of cars brings men who have outstayed their furloughs, or who have left the army without permission. Stalwart and symmetrical men from different parts of the country are coming here constantly to offer themselves as substitutes for drafted men who can obtain for them the fee of $300. In the mean time, volunteer enlistments continue to add brave fellows to our troops. Thus the work goes on. Several thousand conscripts and substitutes from different parts of New York have been sent from Riker's Island to the army, and from New-Drop a large force of volunteers have gone in the same direction. Just before the issuing of the Proclamation, some of the courts commenced the work of liberating the conscripts. In Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Albany, New York, and elsewhere, the arrangements had been made to embarrass the Government by withholding men from the army; but the suspension of the writ has spoiled all their plans. Since the commencement of the rebellion, one man, by the use of the power given to him in the writ of habeas corpus, has taken from the ranks of our volunteers a large number of men. A few such Copperheads scattered over the State could in a few weeks undo the work accomplished by the draft, and secure—what they so devoutly desire—the delay coveted by the Confederates.

MAINE, having sent fifty thousand of her patriots to the war, has enough left at home to give the Union party a majority of twenty thousand over the Copperhead Democracy.

Foreign War.

Louis Napoleon sends us the very gratifying intelligence that he does not intend to make war on us but will continue to do as he pleases in regard to American affairs without paying any attention to our likes or dislikes.

We do not want a war with France, simply because for us to sweep her limited commerce from the ocean would not compensate for the advantage which the rebels would receive by having the ports and dockyards of France and the French colonies and islands thrown open to rebel privateers, enabling them to repair and refit and also to dispose of captured vessels and cargoes, which, in their present outlawing from the family of nations, they are now compelled to burn at sea. With England the case is different. Her empire, on which the sun never sets, her thousand ships of war, her exhaustless wealth, the pride and patience of her people, and the skill and courage of her seamen and soldiers, are known to us; but they cannot be weighed against our honor. Shall we tamely submit, because our fleets and armies are busy at home, to have our commerce driven from the seas by rebel privateers—built in English ports, manned by English sailors, armed with English cannon, all English from keel to top-gallant except the commander and the flag, while the carrying trade of the world is made over to the English marine; because the increased insurance—the war risks—on American ships, drives cargoes to seek English bottoms. Could England with her wooden navy do our commerce more damage in actual war, or would the rich fleets of merchantmen captured by our privateers repay us for the losses which she could inflict as a foe which would in truth be not much greater than she inflicts as a friend?

Terrible as is our present struggle, great as is the expenditure in men and money, yet the United States are only at the beginning of their resources; new fleets can be built, new armies can be raised, new loans can be made, new losses can be sustained; but our spirits can not be broken, our wealth can not be exhausted, our honor tarnished nor our Union destroyed, for our fathers placed us in the front rank of nations and we will keep our position as long as we have a man to carry a musket or a horse to haul a gun.

The popularity of a war with England would be undoubted, and by driving the Copperhead party to the support of the Union would give the death-blow to the reeling kingdom of Jeff. Davis, for no sane man can suppose that the fleets and armies of England could give the rebels half the aid that they now receive from their Copperhead allies, that a power which confesses itself unable to defend Canada, could injure us half so much by open warfare as these copper Democracy do by their transparent treason. Therefore, as a measure to suppress the rebellion, a declaration of war against England would only be second to the proclamation of freedom in its efficacy.

The Confederate Debt.

Among all the loyal men there is a firm conviction and determination that in no event will the country be responsible for the debt of a thousad millions which the Confederates have incurred in waging their war against the nation. No settlement of the strife is legally or loyally conceivable in which the whole territory and population of the United States will not be taxed for the debt of the nation, and in which the holders of the Confederate bonds and Confederate currency will not be compelled to suffer a total loss. At present their loss is ninety per cent. on the par "value;" and before the war is concluded it will be greater still. The whole confederate debt is simply an unequal, iniquitous, and financially bad mode of taxation, devised by treason to work the objects of treason. With the defeat of treason, it should become worthless.

Yet the Copperhead scheme of reconstruction implies the putting of this debt on a par with the Federal debt. By this scheme senators and representatives from the rebel States are to be invited to resume their seats in Congress, without any questions being asked, and, by the aid of the Copperhead minority, to control the legislation of the country. There cannot be the slightest doubt that they would recognize the Confederate debt as a debt of the United States, and place it by law on an equality with Treasury notes. The result would be to send down the latter to the price of the Confederate rags, and ruin all the holders. The scheme will fail because the Copperheads will be defeated, and because no reconstruction policy will be approved by the people which proposes to place the Government of the country in the hands of enemies.

The Five-Twenty Loan.

Hitherto the subscriptions to this great national loan have been somewhat retarded by the fact that persons subscribing their money to it were compelled to wait vexatiously the delivery of their bonds, in consequence of the overwhelming mass of business in the Treasury Department at Washington rendering it almost impossible to keep pace with the liberality of the public in subscribing. Great exertions were used to remedy the defect, yet despite all the efforts of Mr. Chase and his enterprising assistants, the deliveries of bonds were steadily from fifteen to twenty millions behind the subscriptions. At last, however, Mr. Chase has succeeded in bringing up the arrears, heavy as they were, to within less than half a million, over twenty millions being, by dint of great exertions, signed and delivered within the present week, and the impediment to steady progress being thus removed, the deliveries of bonds will hereafter be immediate upon subscription. This fact is important to capitalists and persons of means, who may have been delayed hitherto in making their subscriptions by the circumstances alluded to. Nothing, however, could more strikingly attest the profound faith of our people in the strength and resources of the national government than the fact which has caused this trouble—that the subscriptions to the great loan far exceeded the capacity of the most extraordinary exertions of the Treasury Department to keep pace with it.

SOME of the Paymasters have already started to the army of the Potomac, to pay off the troops or two months, now due. The law allows $42 a year for clothing, which, ordinarily, is a sum sufficient for it; but, as in recent battles, the soldiers, by order of their officers, threw away some of their equipments, &c., in order the better to prepare them for the conflict, they have been obliged to draw for additional supplies, thus exceeding the legal stipulated amount of money. In consequence of the loss sustained by them they are now required to settle for the overdrawn sum; therefore, their pay to this extent will now be decreased. Without legislation by Congress there is no remedy for this hardship; but gentlemen connected with the army express the opinion that the welfare and compensation of our troops will not be allowed to suffer owing to their obedience to the orders of their commanding officers, and that provision will, during the next session, be made for their benefit.

LEE threatens another raid into Pennsylvania during election week. If his army, as we are told, is but forty thousand strong, and they would come here and vote, Curtin and the Union would still have a handsome working majority.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.—Dispatches to the Philadelphia Press state that the army of the Potomac was unexpectedly in motion on Thursday. "Our advance will not have rest on this side of the Rapidan. For two days our army had to live without fire, as it would have attracted the enemy's shells upon a discovered position. Kilpatrick made several feints across the Rapidan, bui it was soon made evident that he could not live a moment upon the other side. On Wednesday the rebels, who seem in doubt concerning the strength and sincerity of the movement, crossed the river near Raccoon Ford, and drove the 150 men at the post away; but two regiments of our cavalry, armed with revolving rifles, dismounted and drove them back in confusion. We lost about 90. On Thursday morning, according to an important rumor, the rebels crossed again at Raccoon Ford in a strong force, and captured 100 men of a New York regiment of military. The latest news from the army is that all was quiet yesterday (Friday,) the relative positions remaining unchanged.

THE decisions of such Copperhead judges as Lowrie, McClure, Leonard, &c., overruling the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States; in the case of Ableman vs. Booth, has rendered it necessary for the President to suspend the writ of habeas corpus, in cases relating to offences against military law; whereat the Copperhead press howl fearfully, but loyal people only see in it additional evidence of the determination of the Government to maintain the Union and put down the rebellion by making use of any and all means which the law sanctions.

GOD BLESS ABRAHAM LINCOLN! This seems to be the ejaculation of every truly loyal man, as he reads the recent letter of the President delaring his unalterable adhesion to the Proclamation of Liberty. That Proclamation was the nation's promise to the slave, and it must and will be kept. There will be no "reconstruction," reorganization," or "restoration," upon any plan which does not recognize the validity of that Proclamation. But the Union will be restored, and its restoration will be upon the sure basis of Universal Freedom. On this the freemen of the North, coming forth from the baptism of blood, will "yield not an inch."

THE Woodward copperheads intend making peace with the South and offer to assume the rebel debt—about three thousand million, if the slaveholders will consent to come back and govern us Northern mudsills as heretofore. Would it not be good financial policy—if we must pay it—to buy it in now when it is selling in Richmond for six cents on the dollar. Who bids?

DEATH OF GENERAL HOUSTON.—General Sam Houston died at his residence in Huntersville, Texas, on the 25th of July. He was 70 years of age.

The above is the brief notice of the Richmond Whig, of the death of this distinguished man. Its brevity is sufficient assurance that he died a loyal man.

THE next great victory of the Union armies will probably be won by Rosecrans and Burnside in Northern Georgia, over Bragg and Longstreet. The next great victory of the Union cause will be won next October in Pennsylvania, by Curtin and Agnew over Woodward and Lowrie.

GOV. CURTIN, notwithstanding the war, has paid nearly a million dollars of our State debt. Judge Woodward by assuming the rebel debt would more than double our present taxes.

Mr. Vallandigham has returned to Windsor, and is being visited by numbers of American citizens, among them Ex-Senator Pugh, the candidate for Lieut. Governor on the same ticket.

WHEELER & WILSON'S
SEWING MACHINES

AWARDED BY THE
LONDON AND PARIS EXHIBITIONS.
The sale of these Machines is equal to the sale of all others combined, arising from its adaptability to all kinds of Sewing. As proof, read the following from Douglass & Sherwood, the well known Skirt Manufacturers:
"We have used the Wheeler & Wilsen Sewing Machine in our Skirt Manufactory since January 20th, 1855. It has indeed created our business. After testing the principal machies before the public we selected yours. We commenced with one, and are now running one hundred and seventy-two of them. We are running one hundred of your Machines in one room, and yet such is the quietness, that conversation can be carried on in an ordinary tone of voice. They are adapted to every portion of our work; sewing equally well upon the lightest muslin and our heaviest work, consisting of nine thicknesses, five of them being of hair cloth, two of common cotton cloth, and two of starched tape. Its speed is unexampled. With one, a person can accomplish as much as twelve persons without it, and twice as much as by any other machine. One thousands yards of straight seam, ten stitches to the inch, is an ordinary day's work of ten hours. We have run it as high as one hundred and fifty yards per hour. The fatigue is so slight that our employees work the year round, and continue in good health and spirits. We cannot too highly recommend Wheeler & Wilson's Machines, and our opinions are shared by all Manufacturers of experience and judgment, with whom we come in contact."
Also, from the United Presbyterian of Sept. 10:
"After more than one year's experience, we can cordially recommend to our friends Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines as one of the most useful pieces of household furniture with which any house can be supplied. It is the last thing in our domestic institution that we would part with."
Every machine warranted for three years. Call and see them in operation and obtain our descriptive circular.

THE SINKING FUND.
Great Reduction of the State Debt.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.—Whereas, By the third section of the act of the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, passed the twenty-second day of April, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, entitled "An Act to establish a sinking fund for the payment of the public debt," it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, the Auditor General and State Treasurer, commissioners of the Sinking Fund created by the said act of the General Assembly, on the first Monday of September, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, and on the same day annually thereafter, to report and certify to the Governor the amount received under said act, the amount of interest paid and the amount of the debt of the Commonwealth, redeemed and held by them; whereupon, the Governor shall direct the certificates representing the same to be cancelled, and on such cancellation issue his proclamation, stating the fact and the extinguishment and final discharge of so much of the principal of said debt;

And whereas, By the seventy-eighth section of an act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth, passed the nineteenth day of April, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three entitled "An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Government, &c.," it is provided, that thereafter the receipts of the Sinking Fund, to the amount that may be necessary to cancel the relief issues now in circulation under the provisions of the act of the fourth of May, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and forty-one, and the reissues under the act of fourth of April, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine, shall be applied towards the cancellation of said issues;

And whereas, Eli Slifer, Isaac Slenker and William M'Grath, ex-officio commissioner of the Sinking Fund, in obedience to the requirements of law, report and certify to me that the debt of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, redeemed and held from the first day of September, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, to the seventh day of September, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three amounts to the sum of nine hundred and fifty-four thousand seven hundred and twenty dollars and forty cents, made up as follows:

Coupon loan act, May 4, 1862, $100,000 00
Five per cent loan, May 4, 1862.....	790,716 50
Four and one-half per cent. loan.....	63,000 00
Relief notes cancelled.....	963 00
Domestic creditors certificates redeemed.....	13 00
Interest on certificates paid	27 00
Total.....	$954,720 40

Now, therefore, as required by the third section of the act of Assembly, first above mentioned, I do hereby issue this my proclamation, declaring the payment, cancellation, extinguishment and final discharge of nine hundred and fifty-four thousand, seven hundred and twenty dollars and forty cents of the principal of the debt of the Commonwealth, including nine hundred and sixty-three dollars of the relief issues, which have been cancelled and destroyed as authorized by the ninety-eighth section of the act of the nineteenth day of April, A. D., one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three aforesaid.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this eighth day of September, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-eighth.

Appointed Surgeon.—Dr. A. P. Heichhold, of Brookville, has been appointed a surgeon of colored troops.

Passed Through.—A company numbering some eighty men, formed from the soldiers in Eastern hospitals, passed through on Saturday for Meadville.

Looking After Convalescents.—Hon Edgar Cowan, Hon. John Covode and other distinguished Pennsylvanians, visited the convalescent camp near Alexandria last week, and were well received.

The Pier Marks.—We observe that the wharfmaster of the Monongahela is about having the pier marks on the bridge repainted, previous to the resumption of Fall navigation.

Filling in the Trestle Work.—Workmen are engaged filling in the trestle work of the railroad at the Allegheny end of the viaduct, with dirt. This will render the track much more substantial, and less liable to accidents.

Democracy.—The modern Democracy had a meeting at Duffey's, in the Third Ward, on Saturday night, at which Robert M. Gibson spoke for nearly three hours. The arguments usually heard at such gatherings were reiterated.

The Canal.—But few of our citizens are aware of the fact that the canal is filled with water, and that boats are running upon it. On Saturday we noticed a packet loading for Freeport, and she seemed to be getting a very fair trip of freight.

Villainous—On Saturday night some contemptible scoundrel amused himself by throwing stones through the windows of the Franklin Billiard Saloon, on Fifth street, opposite the theatre. There was a large crowd in the street at the time, and it was impossible to ascertain who the perpetrator of the outrage was.

Pittsburghers in Philadelphia.—The following Pittsburghers were registered at the hotels in Philadelphia on Friday: D. Bushnell and lady, Miss L. Atwood, N. P. Sawyer, Esq., Hon. Thos. J. Bigham, F. M. Wells, M. Shellaby and lady, D. Reed and daughter, James Reed, S. J. Adams and wife, E. P. Long, S. Davis and lady, H. Hardwend, W. Greer.

Tearing Down the Piers.—The work of demolition of the old piers of the Aqueduct still progresses, and the one nearest the Pittsburgh side of the river has been completely taken down. Those who have to navigate the river at this point, will be heartily rejoiced when the last vestage of the old aqueduct has been removed.

Matilda Herron.—This gifted actress will open to-night at the theatre in her great character of Camille, in the impersonation of which she is acknowledged to be without a rival. The play is well cast, all the members of the stock company appearing. Those who have never seen Miss Herron as Camille should not miss the present opportunity, while those who have seen her will go again.

Will Open To-Night.—The famous Morris Minstrels will commence a series of their inimitable entertainments at Concert Hall to-night. Wherever they have appeared this troupe have given the greatest satisfaction, and a glance at their programme will satisfy any one of its novelty and variety. The songs are all new, and most of their funny acts are performed by them alone. If you would enjoy a pleasant evening profitably, visit Concert Hall to-night.

Special Musical Notice.—Mr. Edwin Sherratt, professor of music and Bassinia's method of vocal training, would respectfully inform the ladies and gentlemen of the city that a limited number of pupils will be admitted (if application is made at once) into the new class just formed at the Pittsburgh Musical Institute. The exercises will be adapted to the new scholars as well as those more advanced in music. Each class will meet twice a week, the first at 4 P. M., the other at 7½ P. M. Satisfaction guaranteed. Terms moderate.

Union Meeting in Allegheny.—The friends of Curtin, Agnew and the Union, will have a grand meeting this evening at the house of Mrs. Pack, corner of Chestnut and Main streets, Allegheny. Several prominent speakers will be present and address the meeting. Every preparation is being made by the matter in charge, to have the meeting a grand success. Let all the friends of the Union attend who can conveniently do so.

Union Meeting in Wilkinsburg.—The citizens of Wilkins township held a large meeting at the school-house, in the village, on Friday, which was presided over by Wm. S. Haven, assisted by James M'Kelvy and Hugh Wood as Vice Presidents, and H. R. Chalfant acting as Secretary. Addresses were made by Lieut. John Snodgrass, of Camp Copeland, L. P. Stone and H. C. Mackrell, Esqs., and Capt. Giebner. The proceedings were enthusiastic throughout, and the speakers were repeatedly applauded.

A Handsome Building.—The German Trust and Savings Bank has been removed from Liberty street to the Company's new and elegant structure, corner of Sixth and Wood streets. In point of adaptability the new building will rank with that of any similar institution in the city, and presents a truly neat appearance throughout. We are gratified to learn that the Bank is doing a large and constantly increasing business, which speaks well for the energy and tact of the gentlemen conducting its affairs.

General Haupt.—The order of Secretary Stanton, relieving General Herman Haupt from further duty in the War Department, requires a word of explanation. In April, 1862, he was called to Washington, to take charge of the reconstruction of the Fredericksburg Railroad, and in nine days, among other important duties, he constructed a railroad bridge which excited the wonder and admiration of the European officers and engineers who visited it. General Haupt next reconstructed and reopened the Manassas Gap road to Front Royal. Upon completing his labors on the Manassas Gap, he was again solicited to take an exalted commission but declined. In less than two weeks he was again summoned to Washington, and during General Pope's campaign rendered most valuable service. A commission of Brigadier General was sent him, which he declined. A year after he was informed that if it was not accepted by a certain date it would be declared vacant. He again declined, and expressed a desire to be relieved altogether. He was accordingly relieved on the 14th instant.

Cloak opening at Barker's, 57 Market street, Wednesday next.

In the City on Furlough.

We had the pleasure on Saturday of meeting with John Murray, the pilot of the flag-ship Benton, in Admiral Porter's fleet. Mr. Murray has been in the service for a period of over sixteen months, and this is his first visit home to his family and friends. He holds a commission from Admiral Porter as first-class pilot, and has with him recommendations from the Admiral himself, as well as other prominent naval officers, all bearing testimony to his integrity as a man and officer. In fact so highly is he thought of by his commander, that Admiral Porter refused to accept his resignation tendered a short time since, and insisted on his taking a furlough for thirty days. Mr. Murray is one of our oldest river pilots, and his many friends will be glad to welcome him home.

Enthusiastic Union Demonstration.

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the friends of Curtin and the Union, was held in the borough of Temperanceville on Friday night, at which Joseph Ross, Esq., presided, assisted by Dr. Wm. M. Simcox and Wm. Wirts as Vice Presidents, and Joseph B. Samson, as Secretary. Eloquent and appropriate addresses were made by George McCook, Col. Thomas M. Bayne, and Capt. John H. Stewart, our candidate for Sheriff. Arbogast's brass band discoursed several patriotic airs during the proceedings, and the utmost enthusiasm prevailed throughout. The loyal and patriotic citizens of Temperanceville are determined not to be outdone by older districts in rolling up an overwhelming vote for Curtin, Agnew and the entire ticket. They promise an increased vote on all previous efforts, and we have reason to believe they will keep their word.

Destructive Fire.—A fire occurred yesterday morning at the mouth of Butcher's run, in the upper portion of Allegheny City, by which two brick, two stone and one frame house were destroyed. One of the brick houses was occupied by Thos. Arnold as a soap and candle manufactory, and the remainder by Wm. Martin, whose business it is to prepare bones for shipment, by cleansing them and grinding them into what is called bone meal. The fire originated in the frame building, where the bones are boiled. One person informed us that there was no doubt but that the building was set on fire, while another gave us to understand that the fire originated from negligence, by leaving a large fire under the kettles, from which the building caught. Everything was destroyed. There was no insurance on the property, and the loss is estimated at between five thousand and six thousand dollars.

A Grand Meeting in Beaver.—The friends of the Union have called a mass meeting to be held at the Fair grounds, in Beaver, on Friday next at one o'clock. Among the names of distinguished speakers announced to address the meeting, we observe those of Governor Curtin, General Butler, Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson and Governor Pierpont, of Virginia. The freemen of Western Pennsylvania are cordially invited to attend, and as an additional inducement for a large turn out a beautiful flag will be presented to that township sending the largest delegation in proportion to its vote. Every arrangement will be made for the accommodation of visitors from a distance, as large delegations are expected from all the surrounding cities and boroughs. Let there be a grand rally.

The Suspension of the Habeas Corpus.

The Secretary of War has ordered that the act of Congress relating to the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus and Proclamation of the President, based upon the same, be published for the information of all concerned, and that the following special instructions for persons in the military service in the United States be strictly observed, namely:

The attention of every officer in the military service of the United States is called to the proclamation of the President issued on the 15th day of September, 1863, by which the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus is suspended. If, therefore, a writ of habeas corpus should, in violation of the aforesaid proclamation, be sued out and served upon any officer in the military service of the United States, commanding him to produce before any Court or Judge, any person in his custody by authority of the President of the United States, belonging to any one of the classes specified in the President's proclamation, it shall be the duty of such officer to make known by his certificate, under oath, to whomsoever may issue such writ of habeas corpus, that the person named in said writ is detained by him as a prisoner, under the authority of the President of the United States, such return having been made, of any person serving or attempting to serve such writ, either by the command of any court or otherwise, and with or without process of law shall attempt to arrest the officers making such return and holding custody such person, the said officer is hereby commanded to refuse submission and obedience to such arrest, and if there should be any attempt to take such person from the custody of such officer, or arrest such officer, he shall resist such attempt, calling to his aid any force that may be necessary to maintain the authority of the United States, and render such resistance effectual.

Court Proceedings.

MOTION MADE FOR A NEW TRIAL.

In the Criminal Court on Saturday, a motion for a new trial was made in the case of the covicted forgers, Tappan and Emery. The reasons filed consisted of affidavits setting forth that the real name of Tappan was Charles Mellville; that in 1862 he was in the army, but was taken prisoner at Charles City Cross Roads and sent to Richmond; that he, Mellville, escaped from there under the name of Tappan, and that by that name he became acquainted with one Andrew G. Moore, a sutler in the army; that Moore called on him at his house in Philadelphia, and there bought from him $8,000 in government securities, paying him in acceptances on New York, among which was one on Assistant Secretary Cisco for $4,501 97, the same, it is claimed, upon which the money was obtained from the bank here; that the check is yet in existence, and that the sutler, Moore, could substantiate the foregoing, who it was believed could be got here if a new trial were ordered. Tappan's health, it is said, is very precarious, and he was not present in court. Emery, however, was, and made a few remarks to the court relative to his part in the transaction. The motion will come up for argument during the week.

CONVICTED OF ROBBERY.

The jury in the case of Theophilus George, reported on Friday, brought in a verdict of guilty on Saturday morning, with a recommendation to mercy. He was remanded for sentence.

WANTS POSSESSION OF HER GRAND-CHILD.

An interesting habeas corpus came up, of which we give the following brief particulars. It appears that in 1861, a Mrs. Fielding indentured her daughter, Annie M. Fielding, then eight years old, to the Allegheny Orphan's Asylum, which, however, she did not enter, as her friends refused to give her up. Shortly afterwards, the mother died, and the girl was taken in charge by her grandmother, Sarah Whaley, who transferred the custody of the child to an aunt. After keeping her for sometime—the aunt placed her in the Catholic Orphan's Asylum, where she now is. The grandmother being again desirous of getting possession, sued out the present writ of habeas corpus, alleging that she was restrained of her liberty, and asking that she be restored to her again. Mr. Gallaher, on behalf of the Catholic Orphan's Asylum, claimed that Mrs. Whaley was not a proper person to have the custody of the child, and contended that she was legally in possession of the Catholic Asylum, Mr. Bakewell, on behalf of the Allegheny Asylum, exhibited the original indenture, and contended that that institution had the legal claim to the possession of the girl. Mr. Whitesell, on behalf of the grandmother, claimed that Mrs. Whaley was entitled in law and justice to the child. The case was finally postponed until the 29th inst., at which time the Court will give its decision in the matter.

Boy's Clothing.—We direct attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Gray & Logan, who have just commenced an establishment for the sale of boy's clothing, at No. 19 Fifth street. This is a speciality in the clothing business, the want of which has been, to some extent, long felt, and as Messrs. Gray & Logan are gentlemen of large experience, and have every facility to procure the latest and most fashionable fabrics, we can cordially commend them to public patronage. They have now on hand a large and well selected stock of goods for children's wear, in sizes to suit youths from four to eighteen years, to which the attention of parent's is invited.

Serious Affray in Allegheny.

Between four and five o'clock yesterday, our sister city was thrown into great excitement by the attempted murder in the Fourth ward, of an old German citizen, named Mathias Mitsch, aged seventy-two years. It appears that two young rowdies, named William Elkins and Nicholas Miller, entered the premises of Mr. Mitsch, which are situated in the rear of a lager beer saloon, and demanded something to be present, told them they could get nothing to eat there, when Miller seized him by the throat. Old man Mitsch then raised a shovel to strike Miller, when Elkins seized an axe and struck Mitsch on the head, inflicting a ghastly but not dangerous wound, and in attempting to strike him a second time, wounded him in the arm. Elkins then fled the scene, and was pursued by an excited crowd into the Fifth ward, this city, where he was arrested by the Mayor's police, assisted by officer Wray. He was taken to the watch-house in this city, and locked up to await the demands of the Allegheny authorities. Miller succeeded in making his escape, but we have no doubt of his speedy arrest. We were at the wounded man's residence at a late hour last night, and for one of his years he appears to withstand his injuries remarkably well.

Union Demonstrations in Blair County.

A correspondent sends us the following from Altoona, under date of Friday, eleven o'clock p. m.:

"The Union demonstrations held at Hollidaysburg and Altoona, the former in the afternoon and the latter this evening, were of the most glorious character. The people turned out in their might and majesty, filled with enthusiastic patriotism, and demonstrating that already the election of Curtin is a foregone conclusion. Bands discoursed sweet music, flags waved and the ladies lent their presence to the enlivening scene.

At the first named town Hon. Judge Calvin presided, assisted by a number of Vice Presidents. Eloquent and powerful addresses were delivered by Hon. P. C. Shannon, Mr. Matthews, of Baltimore, and Hon. Amos Myers, of Clarion. At Altoona Ex-Speaker Hall presided, and the vast assemblage was addressed by Mr. Chase, of New York, Col. Montgomery, of Vicksburg, Miss., and Hon. P. C. Shannon. The last named speaker, spoke fervently to his many old friends from Blair county, urging them to lay aside old party lines and to rally in the cause of the Union.

"Altogether this was the most successful meeting held in this section of the State.

"Yours truly, W. J. M."

Beautiful Portraits of Deceased Citizens.—We made brief mention on Saturday of the fact that the portraits of Messrs. James Anderson, L. R. Livingston and John Herron, late prominent citizens of the county, had been painted for the managers of the House of Refuge, and could be seen at Gillespie's, Wood street. The lamented deceased had been intimately associated with the affairs of the House of Refuge from the inception of the institution up to the time of their death. They gave largely of their time and means to render the Refuge second to no similar institution for the correction and instruction of youth, and they died fully conscious that their efforts had not been in vain. The present Board of Managers, as a tribute of respect to the memory of their lamented associates, at a late meeting ordered painted photographs of them. The committee having the matter in charge have performed their task, and the pictures can now be seen at Mr. Gillespie's, on Wood street. The action of the Board of Managers was very fitting and appropriate, and does credit to them.

Death of Lieutenant Selden.—Lieutenant George Selden, son of George S. Selden, Esq., of this city, died on Thursday at one of the Baltimore hospitals, from injuries received at the battle of Gettysburg. Young Mr. Selden distinguished himself on many fields, and was beloved by not only those under his command but by a large circle of friends at home. His remains were brought to the city yesterday and conveyed to the residence of Mrs. Israel, on Penn street. They will be removed to Meadville for interment, the Rev. Van Deusen accompanying them for the purpose of conducting the funeral services.

Bishop Stevens.—This distinguished and talented divine delivered a sermon last evening at Trinity Church. His text was from the 9th chapter of St. John, 39th, 40th and 41st verses. The sermon was a most eloquent and impressive one, and was listened to with breathless attention by the large congregation which had assembled to hear him. As a preacher Bishop Stevens has no superiors and few equals, and we trust he may be spared many years to officiate in the high calling to which he has been chosen.

Serious Railroad Accident.—A stranger, whose name we have mislaid, was run over by the Brinton accommodation train on Saturday evening in the outer depot yards. He was standing on the track at the time, and did not notice the approach of the train. His skull was fractured and he received other serious injuries. Dr. Kearns dressed his wounds and on Sabbath he was removed to the Mercy Hospital, where he now lies in a precarious condition. His recovery is doubtful.

Riot at the Drove Yards.—Quite a riot occurred at the William Penn drove yards, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon, which resulted in the arrest of John Quinn, Patrick Martin and Patrick Barnes. The police badly used up the prisoners in effecting their arrest, but it was necessary to do so. The whole difficulty had its origin in bad whisky. The parties were locked up for examination.

Almost a Fire.—On Saturday evening, about five o'clock, a fire was discovered in the malt house connected with Garrard's Brewery, but it was extinguished with little or no damage, and without the aid of the fire department. We did not learn how it originated.

Gone East.—James Hamill, in company with his trainer, Johnny Mackey, left yesterday afternoon on the 5:40 train for Poughkeepsie, to finish the preliminaries for the race which comes off on the 28th of the present month.

Prisoners of War.—Forty-six citizen prisoners of war, part of whom were captured on the Kanawha river, in Virginia, arrived in this city from Fort Delaware yesterday morning, and were detained by Capt. Wright at the Provost Marshal's office until last night, when they were sent to Camp Chase.

A New Article.—There is on exhibition at the Oil Exchange a pump that acts upon an entirely new principle, and one peculiarly adapted to the wants of oil men. It is a rotary pump, and one of the size of the one on exhibition will force water perpendicularly a distance of twenty-five feet. By placing the pump in a barrel of oil, and a hose attached to the nose in an empty barrel, in a very short time you change the relative positions of the barrels by emptying one and filling the other; then without changing the pump, but by merely turning the handle the other way, you bring the oil or other fluid back into the first barrel. As we have no idea of the internal arrangements of the pump, we can give no correct idea of the principle upon which it works, but can only advise all interested to call and examine it.

Pay Your Taxes.—We would advise all our friends to settle their taxes with the County treasurer immediately, and thereby save the per centage, as the time will soon expire, and the five per cent will be added.

"Daily Commercial" Job Printing Office.—Orders for every style of Book and Job printing promptly and neatly executed, from a visiting card up to a mammoth poster. The most rapid and improved steam presses are used in the execution of the work.

The Philadelphia Express train, due here at 12:20 P. M., was about four hours behind time yesterday.

Cloak opening at Barker's, 57 Market street, Wednesday next.

Vocal Music.—H. D. Bright, teacher of singing and cultivation of the voice, 128 Smithfield street.

Grover and Baker's Sewing Machines, for family and manufacturing purposes, are the best in use.

A. F. CHATTONY, General Agent, No. 18 Fifth street.

CONNECTICUT has $46,000,000 invested in manufacturing, giving employment to 60,000 persons.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

From the Army of the Cumberland.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND, 3 MILES FROM CRAWFISH SPRINGS, Ga., Sept. 19.—An engagement began this morning at eleven o'clock, with a heavy attack on Gen. Thomas, who formed the left wing. At the same time the attack was so light that it was thought to be a feint on the left, composed of McCook and Crittenden's troops, thrown in as convenience offered, the main portions of each being on the march at the time. The fight on the left was very desperate. The enemy were repulsed, but on being reinforced regained their position; from which they were subsequently driven after a desperate engagement of an hour and a half. Gen. Thomas charged for nearly a mile, punishing them severely. About 2 o'clock the rebels made a dash at Carter, composed of Van Cleeve and Reynolds. Van Cleeve was struck on the right flank, and being vigorously pushed fell back until Carter was broken. The troops were much scattered. General Thomas on the left and Davis on the right threw forward forces vigorously towards the gap, and after a hard fight recovered the ground. The fight on the extreme right has been light. The enemy apparently purposed to get between us and Chattanooga. The general engagement ended at about four o'clock p. m. About six, Palmer, who had gathered scattered forces, and Negley, who had been sent from the right flank to feel the center, pushed forward and re-established the line as it had been before, parallel with and running along Chicamanga creek. The country is level and thickly overgrown with small timber and brush, unfavorable to the use of artillery, and very little has been used. The casualties in wounded are heavy, but surprisingly light in killed for so heavy a musketry engagement. The engagement on the left was a continuous roll of musketry for hours. No general officers were injured. Among the wounded are: Cols. Hess and Bradley, commanding brigades; Col. Jones, of the 35th Ohio; Col. Carroll and Maj. Vannetta, of the 10th Indiana; Lieut. Col. Hunt, of the 40th Kentucky; Lieut. Col. Maxwell, of the 2d Ohio; Lieut. Dyram, Lieut. Ludlow and Lieut. Fessenden, of battery H, 5th artillery; Lieut. Floyd, battery I, 4th artillery; Capt. Brown, of the 31st Illinois. Lieut. Jones, company A, 10th Indiana, and Capt. Searle, of Adj. Starkweather's brigade, were among the killed. The 79th Indiana recovered a full battery. Battery H, 5th artillery, was lost and captured. The fight is not yet over. It will probably be renewed to-morrow. The rebel prisoners taken represent the corps of Hill, Polk, Johnson and Longstreet. Our men are in the best spirits and eager to begin anew.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Guerrillas still infest the southern side of the Potomac, capturing sutler's property. On Thursday, thirteen horses and three wagons, together with five men fell into the hands of 15 uniformed guerrillas, commanded by Captain Stringfellow, while on the way from Cutlett's to Bristow Station.

The Treasurer of the United States has recently received additional evidence that the two millions dollars, for the pay of Gen. Grant's army, was actually on board the steamer Ruth at the time of the fire. Much of the money has been recovered in a charred condition, and a commission has been appointed to extend the search for the portion still missing.

Since the conflagration at Lawrence, Kansas, eight or nine packages of notes have been sent to the Treasurer to be exchanged. They had been subjected to the fire but were not injured beyond identification. It seems that the chemicals employed on these notes form a coating which affords a partial protection from fire.

It has been ascertained that of the 50 cent postage currency there are nine different counterfeits, of the 25 and 10's two each, of the 5's one. The present postage currency is coming into the treasury at the rate of $50,000 per day, and about $2,000,000 of the $20,000,000 issued has already been received. The 50 and 25 cent notes will be withdrawn and the new and improved issues will soon begin to take their place. The 10 and 5 cent notes will be more gradual.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The steamer Golden Age arrived last night, with dates from the City of Mexico via Acapulco to the 10th of August. The guerrillrs who occupied the main roads leading to the capital, had captured several French trains, causing much suffering from the scarcity of provisions. Communnication with Vera Crus is constantly interrupted. The guerrillas occupy Jalapa and Orizaba.

Saligny, the French minister, had been poisoned, causing dangerous illness.

The ship John Jay has arrived from Kanagawa August 10th. Japan continued unquiet. A British fleet of twelve vessels had sailed for the western shore of Japan to finish the punishment of Daimos, who had recently been taken to task by an American and French man-of-war.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A Morris Island letter reports the rebels extremely busy in repairing Sumter. Steamers are constantly plying there from the city with materials therefor. A deserter says after strengthening Sumter, and planting more batteries on James Island, Beauregard intends to assume the offensive, in order if possible to gain possession of Morris Island.

Charleston is said to be full of rebel troops. Other accounts state that it may be a week yet before Gilmore will open fire on the city. Gen. Gilmore issued a congratulatory order to his troops on the capture of Morris Island, in which he says the city and harbor of Charleston, lie at the mercy of our artillery.

The explosion of a rebel magazine near Fort Johnson, is confirmed.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A Fortress Monroe letter says the rebel General Kemper, captured at Gettysburg, is about to be exchanged for Gen. Graham, now a prisoner at Richmond.

The iron clad Roanoke has been put in fighting trim, owing to a rumor that the rebel iron clads are about to make an attempt to escape to sea from James river.

A special to the Herald says the recent official advices state that one of the rebel rams was ready to sail from England and was supposed to be waiting a favorable opportunity.

Gov. Cortes, of Sonora, waited upon Secretary Seward to-day. Rumor says his object is to establish if possible an alliance with the United States against the French invasion of Mexico.

Gen. Butler is about to re-enter the field.

NEW YORK September 20.—Washington specials state that the reported evacuation of Richmond can probably be accounted for by the fact that the rebels are withdrawing their stores from the line of the Tennessee Railroad and scattering them South through North Carolina towards Atlanta. This is caused by the capture of East Tennessee by Burnside. Advices from the Army of the Potomac state that the rebels appear in increased force along the Rapidan, as though determined to resist a crossing by our forces, but showing no disposition to cross themselves. A small number of prisoners brought in, including a rebel Captain, who reports Lee in command, though they are aware of the rumors of his resignation. It is not believed that a battle is imminent unless the rebels resolve to cross. The Rapidan is much swollen.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—All the Richmond papers of the 16th and 17th received here, mention that Lee's army has been in line of battle for some days between the Rapidan and the range of mountains, but seems to intimate that it would remain on the defensive. This would seem to indicate that Lee is not strong, and is accepted as confirmatory to the reports that troops have been sent South from Virginia.

Another special to the Post, dated the 19th, says the railroad North of Washington which was washed away, has been repaired.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 19.—The American's special Fortress Monroe correspondent says there is a rumor there which obtains belief with many, that Richmond is being evacuated.

GEN. LEE'S ESTATE.—A cotemporary states that some writers have erred in speaking of the Arlington estate, near Washington city, as having once belonged to General Washington. It was the property of the Custis family, and when Washington married the widow Custis he had charge of it in trust for her son, and afterwards for her grandson, the late G. W. P. Custis, to whom it reverted. Mr. C. married a daughter of Wm. Fitzhugh, of Chatham, who had married a Miss Randolph, and they left one child, a daughter, who married Robert E. Lee, now at the head of the Confederate army in Virginia.

ANOTHER ATTRACTION AT NEWPORT.—A new carriage drive, fifty feet wide, is to be opened at Newport on Bateman's Point, and along Price's Neck and the South Shore to Bailey's Beach, the expense, estimated at ten thousand dollars, to be raised by subscription. The work will be completed before another season, and will add much to the attractions of Newport.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

For additional Commercial and Financial Matters see fourth page.

GOLD last week was exceedingly variable—no quotation holding good for scarcely a day at a time. It has become a military barometer, so to speak. As success attends our armies it falls, and rises under any adverses. Saturday, in New York, it opened at 33¾, advanced to 35¼, declined to 33¼

PHILADELPHIA BOOT AND SHOE MARKET.—The Reporter says:—The boot and shoe trade during the past week has been comparatively active. A considerable number of large buyers have arrived to select their fall and winter stock, and notwithstanding the scarcity of desirable goods, and the high prevailing prices of the medium and heavier descriptions, dealers are buying somewhat freely. Manufacturers and jobbers are inclined to hold for higher figures, anticipating that a much larger demand will soon be realized from new and heretofore uninterrupted sections of the Southwest, in consequence of the restrictions upon trade on the Mississippi having recently been partly removed by the United States Government. Our merchants generally are inclined to make satisfactory terms with their old Southern customers, who are now buying to some extent. The Western and State trade has also been moderately active since our last review. Dealers are buying mostly heavy seasonable work. Manufacturers are advancing their prices a little, as stock is high and workmen scarce. The near-by trade has been to a fair extent, and the aggregate sales will compare favorably with the business of the last few weeks.

BOSTON BOOT AND SHOE MARKET.—The Reporter says: There is still a very good demand for all descriptions, and prices are firm, and show an upward tendency, while stocks are light and most kinds of goods ordered ahead. The western dealers are ordering largely, and several of them are on here for the second time this season, and are purchasing freely. The New England trade has just commenced under favorable auspices, and a fair demand is looked for from that quarter. Taken all together, the fall trade bids fair to be satisfactory and remunerative. The total shipments of boots and shoes by rail and sea, for the past week, have been 17,834 cases.

PHILADELPHIA HIDE MARKET.—The hide market during the past week has exhibited some slight improvement over the transactions of the previous week; prices are firm with an upward tendency. There is a good demand for prime Buenos Ayres dry hides, and quotations are very firm; all good stock is buoyant and tends upward. Upper leather stock is in fair request, particularly wet salted, which command good rates in this market.

PHILADELPHIA LEATHER MARKET.—The demand continues to improve as the season progresses. Prices for some descriptions are firmer than at the date of our last review.

NEW YORK FUR MARKET.

LOUIS TOBACCO MARKET.—Tobacco—Market for the finer grades of leaf firm and active, but the lugs and lower grades of leaf very heavy, with a break at both warehouses this morning of 85 hhds, of which 59 hhds were sold, embracing 6 hhds stems at $2 15@2 40; 5 do factory lugs at $4 40@5 50; 8 do planters' do at $6 05@8 10; 6 do common shipping leaf at $10 10@12 70; 11 do medium do at $13 30@15; 3 do good do at $16 30@17; 14 do medium manufacturing leaf at $17@24; 4 do good do at $26 25@30; 26 hhds bids rejected.

It is said that Beauregard is preparing earnest remonstrance against Gen. Gilmore violating the constitution of Morris Island, statutes of Fort Sumter, and the charter of Charleston.

When the rebels were in Pennsylvania, they destroyed Thad. Steven's iron works. It would have been better if they had destroyed his brass works.

Frederick F. Low, just elected Governor of California by the Union party, by a majority of some twenty thousand votes, is a native of Winterport, Maine. He is about thirty-five years old. At the age of twenty-one he emigrated to California, where he has been engaged in the banking business.

EXHIBITION, OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA
STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY, WILL BE HELD AT NORRISTOWN, MONTGOMERY CO., PA.
September 29th and 30th and October 1st and 2d, 1863.

Norristown is about seventeen miles west of Philadelphia, on the Schuylkill River, and is accessible by railway to every part of the State.

The grounds are beautifully situated, containing 28 acres of ground, with fine large buildings thereon erected, together with a large amount of shedding. The track is to be one of the best half mile tracks in the State. The premiums are the heaviest ever offered by the Society, amounting to about $7,000. The premiums for all grades of cattle exceed $1,000, five of which are $30 each, nineteen from £25 to $15, others running down to lesser rates. Best herd not less than 15 head, 1st premium, $40; 2d premium, $25.

Horses for all grades the premiums exceed $1,350. The highest, $100; 22 between $20 and $30, and others ranging from $15, $10 and $5.

For Sheep and Swine, the premiums range from $10 to $5 and $3.

For Poultry there is a long list of premiums from $2 to $1 each. In the following classes most liberal premiums are offered: Ploughs, Cultivators, Drills, Wagons, Reaping and Mowing Machines, Cutters, Corn Shellers, Cider Mills, Pumps, Buckets, Tin Ware, Leather and its Manufactures, Gas Fixtures, Marble Mantles, Butter, Flour, Grain and Seeds, Vegetables; and also for Domestic and Household Manufactures—Cloth, Carpets, Satinet, Shirting, Sheeting, Blankets, Flannels, Shawls, Knit Goods, Needlework, &c., Bread, Cakes, Preserves, Jellies, &c.

Large premiums are offered for every variety of Fruit and Flowers. The Floral Tent will be the largest ever erected by the Society, and will form one of the most attractive features of the Exhibition. Fruit, Grapes and Wines will be exhibited in this Department.

The Pennsylvania Railroad and Norristown Railroad have arranged to carry articles for exhibition to and from Exhibition freight free, requiring the forward freight to be prepaid, which will be repaid shippers when goods are returned to the station whence shipped. It is hoped to effect the same with other important roads.

Excursions at reduced rates will be run on all the leading railroads.

Entries can be made at the office, in Norristown, after the 4th day of September. All articles must be entered on the books on or before Tuesday evening, Sept 29th. Exhibitors must become members. Membership $1 00, with four coupon tickets, each of which will admit one person to the Fair once.

PAYMENT OF THE MILITIA.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE PENN'A MILITIA, ADJUTANT GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT, Harrisburg, Sept. 7, 1863.

GENERAL ORDER No. 46.

Much delay having unavoidably occurred in the payment of the militia called out by the proclamation of the Governor, and by the authority of the President of the United States, dated September 11, 1862, for the reason that the formalities of muster required by the United States regulations had necessarily been omitted in putting them into service; and a form of roll having been approved by the proper Department at Washington as a sufficient voucher at the Treasury for their payment, captains and officers commanding organizations of troops under the said call will immediately make application to this Department, distinctly stating their post office address, that printed blanks of the approved roll and the proper instructions may be at once furnished.

By order of the Governor.

HOSTETTER'S

HEAR THE WITNESSES.

WORTHLESS and pernicious articles are so often bolstered up in the advertising columns of the press by fabricated letters that the proprietors of

HOSTETTER'S BITTTERS

Rarely give quotations from their business correspondence, lest the GENUINE OPINIONS of those who use and appreciate a GENUINE ARTICLE, should be confounded by the unthinking with the FULSOME RIGMAROLE put into the mouths of MEN OF STRAW by unscrupulous empirics and charlatans, whose double object is to SELL both their trash and the PUBLIC.

Believing, however, that FACTS IMPORTANT TO THE HEALTH AND COMFORT OF THE PUBLIC, and which can be VERIFIED AT ANY MOMENT by addressing the parties who vouch for them, ought not to be hid under a bushel, the undersigned publish below a few communications of recent date, to which they invite the attention of the people, and at the same time ESPECIALLY REQUEST all readers who may feel interested in the subject to ADDRESS THE INDIVIDUALS THEMSELVES, and ascertain the correctness of the particulars.

It may be thought, perhaps, that a preparation like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which has long been a STANDARD TONIC throughout the WESTERN HEMISPHERE, and is rapidly becoming a staple of trade at the antipopes, speaks for itself in stronger tones than private eulogium can speak for it. This is true; but the phases of disease are almost innumerable, and every day new instances of the success of the Bitters, either as a PREVENTIVE or a CURE, come to the knowledge of the proprietors through the mails. Some of these are of immediate interest to thousands placed in precisely the same circumstances as the parties who have been PROTECTED and RELIEVED, and therefore it seems almost an act of duty to put them on record.

The immense increase in the sale of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, both at home and abroad, during the past year proves that the world, while it obeys the Scriptural injunction to
